

Our First Building

Thanks to Gary Kolste, of True North Log Homes and GK&K Construction, the first building at Bookworm Gardens is finished!!! Gary and his crew spent more than a week on site, constructing the log cabin from Little House in the Big Woods. Gary donated the labor as well as the log system, an incredibly generous gift. Nestled in a beautiful grove of white pines, the cabin is utterly enchanting, featuring chinking between the logs and old fashioned hardware. Eventually a covered wagon and fire pit will be added to the area, and children will delight in pretending that they are living Laura Ingalls Wilder's life while they sweep the dirt floor in the cabin, "cook" over the fire, and "travel" in the covered wagon.

Built from slow growth white pine, and constructed using an innovative technology developed and patented by True North Log Homes, the log cabin has no nails, screws or lag bolts. Gary is incredibly impressed with the system, and was happy to explain it to the volunteers who helped to stain and seal the cabin.

Thank you again to Gary and his crew for their wonderful work and generosity to Bookworm Gardens! If you are considering building a log home check out the True North website at www.truenorthloghomes.com or email Gary at www.gkolste@truenorthloghomes.com.

